

"I hated my in-ear monitors..."

...until I used the Aphex Dominator."

"The monitors I demo'd sounded so accurate, open and clean, but the set I later purchased sounded clouded, muddy— and changed the dynamics of my voice. I later found out why. The first system I demo'd had the Aphex Dominator as its protection limiter, the one I bought had another well known brand. I immediately installed the Dominator and got the same great performance that I remembered from the demo."

The Dominator is the only brickwall limiter that will give you the absolute peak protection you need while maintaining the fidelity you demand. Don't gamble with your ears—they're your most precious instruments.
